

Dance into Worship workshop

JOURNEYS INTO FAITH

Saturday 5 November 2005 at Saint Pancras Church, Euston Rd, London, NW1

10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Led by Marguerite Caruana Galizia

Church buildings are spaces where we can be alone and yet know that we are not alone. We move on our spiritual journeys, but in solidarity with the community in which we develop our individuality and identity. A powerful element within any religious service is its appeal to the personal needs of the individuals involved, whilst offering support through a sense of community.

Marguerite would like to create a dance piece that explores the concept of individual and community journeys through life, to be performed within the centre aisle in St Pancras Church. She will help us develop a structure that allows for individual expression within the support of the group.

Marguerite graduated from London Contemporary Dance School in 2003 and received the Bonnie Bird Choreography fund's Mentoring Scheme Award in 2004. She is currently working on a sound and movement installation to be performed in different public spaces, (anywhere but the theatre). She regards the work as a moving meditation rather than a performance. She is interested in creating work that is accessible to a wide public and is interested in working within the community to engage people in the process of creating and developing dance work. She is looking forward to meeting Dance into Worship members and hopes that she can pass on some of her interest and fascination in the art form!
