

Diocesan Lent Appeal 2007: "Take the Shackles off my Feet so I can Dance".

To mark the Bi-centenary of the Abolition of the Slave Trade, the Diocese of London aims to raise £250,000 in support of five projects working with trafficked people and forced labourers in some of the poorest parts of the world - in partnership with The Mothers' Union, Tearfund, SAMS, CMS and Christian Aid.

Please Ensure You Collect Your Church's Resources From Your Area Dean

Now we're Praying for Huge Participation Across the Diocese

- Please Collect your church's individually labelled bag of Lent Appeal Resources from your Area Dean (customised to match your electoral roll numbers).

Lent Course: To Complement your Participation in the Diocesan Lent Appeal

- "Can we Build a Better World? - Learning from William Wilberforce" (A five session course with booklet and CD or Audiotape) This new 'York course' (introduced by the present and the former Archbishops of York) celebrates the work and faith of William Wilberforce. It pays tribute to his achievements in combating slavery 200 years ago. We draw inspiration from his life – but it is not a history lesson! Like William Wilberforce, we live in a divided and hurting world – so can we as Christians in the 21st Century, with others of goodwill, build a better world? – see www.yorkcourses.co.uk
- Churches Together in England (CTE) have launched a superb on-line resource called 'Set All Free' at www.setallfree.net - Packed with useful material for churches and schools
- Stop the Traffik has a lot of resources for churches including a bible study, prayer stations and material for church youth groups at site at www.stophetraffik.org/resources
