

Hosted by Tony Robinson

CODEX is back – but this time two teams will compete every week to win the series!

Are you interested in history?
Are you brave enough to spend the night in a Museum?
*Can you make up a team?

We're looking for 3 people who work together or have shared knowledge to make up a team. It could be friends, relatives or colleagues. Maybe you're brewers or traders, artists or engineers, students or sailors, potters or politicians ... we're open to ideas!

Teams will compete in a series of quiz rounds, based around some of the most famous historical artefacts in the British Museum.
