

Guiding Principles of the Racial Justice Strategy

Racial Justice Priority Group

(December 2021 – December 2026)

Aim

The 2030 Vision is a commitment to grace and love that fosters the flourishing of everyone including all those who have been marginalized in order to attain the ultimate vision of humanity gathered in all its diversity in worship before God. Our need to show the love of our creator is the underlying priority within the Diocese of London as we strive to take action that allows for every Londoner to encounter the Love of God in Christ. The challenge of this vision is not limited to but includes the need to identify, respond to and root out systemic racism that purposefully and unintentionally privileges certain people and groups whilst marginalizing others. The Anti-Racism Taskforce whose report ‘from Lament to Action’ makes clear the actions needed to bring an end to prejudice throughout our culture, structures, policies and practices.

Our need to name and repent of our systemic racism while listening to the voices that can help us to change is paramount. We seek to acknowledge the inequality that restricts the flourishing of global majority heritage/UK minority ethnic people as well as those from Gypsy, Traveler and Roma communities (GTR) respecting the dignity of all as we seek to follow in the footsteps of Christ who calls us to love one another as we strive for justice and peace. It is about bringing about a sea change in our church; and through being rooted in the love of Christ, recognizing the importance and urgency of racial justice.

The commitment to the task of anti-racism is one that will require resilience, patience and cooperation as to date very little progress has been evident within church structures and processes even though the Church of England has been engaged in this work for some time. Our need to appoint more global majority heritage/UK minority ethnic people to episcopal and governance roles throughout the church so that people of different ethnicities and from diverse cultural backgrounds are visible, valued, listened to, empowered and in authority at every level of leadership will be our focus.

Priorities

The strategic priorities identified as key to any meaningful changes are rooted in theology and underpinned by prophecy (James 5: 1-6) in which we are called to acknowledge and repent of systemic racism. This provides a framework for change wherever unjust practices are found. We are also reminded of the crucial impact and significance of the guidance and work of the Holy Spirit through prayer (James 5:13). All of us including those who have suffered, are called to prayer and praise. We are urged to move forward collectively as the Body of Christ empowered with the healing grace of God in Christ and the gift of patience (James 5: 7-11) as we actively listen and engage in dialogue so that we can take the radical steps needed to tackle racism in the church together and provide an accountability structure to make change happen.

We will therefore use the following strategic framework as we begin the transformative work needed to bring about the change that is reflective of the communities we serve.

- 1.1.1 To support the Diocese of London which covers the episcopal areas of the Two Cities, Stepney, Kensington, Edmonton and Willesden in collaboration with the Bishop of Islington, Bishop of Fulham and the Bishop of Maidstone in taking forward the ‘racially just’ priority of 2030 Vision and the recommendations of the Anti-Racism Taskforce report ‘From Lament to Action’.
- 1.1.2 To achieve equality where global majority heritage/UK minority ethnic people and other marginalized groups can play an active role in building church communities that recognise their talents and cultural backgrounds and have these evident at all levels within the Diocese of London.

1.1.3 To identify and root out any processes, structures and systems that collude with racist outcomes in restricting opportunities to marginalized communities so all can play an active role in building a church community that recognises the talents of all and where all are encouraged to reach their full potential in responding to the call of God.

1.1.4 The challenge of delivering racial equity cannot be understated. With the Diocese of London's lack of progress to date, we will endeavour to continuously monitor the impact of all actions taken - gathering, analysing and reflecting on the data so racial equity outcomes can be determined and strategies adapted as necessary.

2. Proposed Strategic Priorities

The strategic framework within which the Diocese of London will operate will consist of 5 specific strategic priorities for 2021 – 2022 outlined below;

Racism Taskforce in words and deeds that underpin the racial justice priority strategy as part of 2030 Vision.

the candidates they put forward and ultimately elect.
